

The background features a stylized green landscape with rolling hills in various shades of green. In the upper portion, there are several stylized trees of different shapes and sizes, some in dark green and others in lighter shades. A yellow deer with brown spots is standing on the left side of the lower hills. The title 'To Protect the Environment' is written in white, rounded letters across the middle of the image, set against a dark green background.

To Protect the Environment

Protecting the environment is essential if we want to preserve the flora and fauna of the natural world for future generations.
