

This is not a mind map
but a spidergram.

The spidergram is a diagram with lines and circles that helps you organize information so it's easier to use and remember. You set up your ideas in the shape of a spider, with a major idea in the middle and lines branching out to provide extra insights or associated ideas, as the name suggests.

A simple spidergram template with a brief guide about its features. Double click the shapes to fill in your own content. Download and customize it any way you like with EdrawMax, including the color, line background and layout.
